VERY LATEST NEWS.

General News.

New York, Nov. 9.

In the collision between the steamer Gen.

Maude and the tugboat, it appears that the tugboat was mistaken for her point light, causing one of her boilers to burst, with the result that the tugboat was sunk. The Maude was not injured. The tugboat was sunk in her bow, from which she looked badly. It was found necessary to run her on the Jersey side.

Advice from St. Domingo state the condition of the country grows worse every day. No business is done, the Government has no money, and it is doubtful if any support will be rendered to Stillman's proposed line of steamers to New York and New Orleans.

The Democrat's Warsaw special says: The peasantry have raised in arms against the Russian commander and are received by the Catholic clergy.

The Democrat's Athens special says: A thousand Croats who had sought shelter there have returned home. The greatest part of Crete is said to be quiet, although the insurgents still have possession of the mountains.

The Democrat's Constantinople special says:

Several conspirators implicated in the plot to take the Sultan's life, have been arrested. The conspiracy originated in the hatred of the Catholics for the Mussulmans and a desire for independence.

A special to the Tribune from New Orleans,

dated November 7th, says the Republican state committee to-day unanimously resolved that the administration of Mayor Ernest D'Almeida, especially their partisan conduct, during the recent tumults and riots and massacres in this city, and State, are highly responsible, in that they exhibited sympathy with and participation in the rebel disobedience, and emboldened them in their attempt to overthrow the State Government and carry the election, even by fraud, violence and bloodshed.

A new well has been started on the side hill the west side of the Creek, about one-fourth a mile south of the Drake well. Drilling will commence on another well in this vicinity in a few days. The object in putting down these wells is to test the territory on which they are located.

As to this month the production has been running slowly. Only a very few producing wells have been struck, while the production of some of the larger wells has decreased. The Boyles 11 on the Woods Farm, struck during the last week of October, averaged until a day or two two hundred and three barrels per day, but not now producing over one hundred and twenty-five barrels. The production of the Vera 1 Blake well, on Cherrytree Run, has decreased during the last week to one hundred and fifty barrels a day, a falling off of fifty-five barrels. The Ross Farm, Cherrytree Run, a new well struck about the last of October, and it is now pumping twenty barrels per day. It is owned by Messrs. Nevi and Randall.

Due to the old wells on Watson's Flat has been started up by Mr. Charles Hermann. The prospects are that it will pay to operate it. Two other wells on the Flat are to be started.

The Ocean Oil Company has declared a dividend of five cents per share.

0 shares Willsboro Oil Co. $20.00
0 shares Western Mining & Manufacturing Co. $20.00
0 shares Willsboro Penn Oil Co. $20.00

On Saturday last a Roberts' torpedo was exploded in a well owned by Mr. C. D. Angel, on the No. 7, Bulls Island, Scrubgrass, and yesterday it was producing largely.

The following stocks were sold by auction at Philadelphia last week:

0 shares Monitor Oil Company $10.00
0 shares North Western Oil Co. $10.00
0 shares McMillan Oil Company $10.00
0 shares Oil Basin Petroleum Company $10.00
0 shares Pittsburgh Oil Company $10.00

The oil refinery of Messrs. Rockefeller, Andrews and Playlar, at Cleveland, Ohio, caught on Saturday last from the explosion of gas the receiving tank, and was nearly consumed. While the fire was in progress, a large crowd of people had congregated upon several gasolines that were near by and covered with earth, when they exploded with a terrible report, hurt the men and boys in all directions. Several were badly burned and otherwise injured, and it feared that some were burned to death, as they were seen to fall back into the burning tanks.

Errors.

In our Petroleum Report, published on the 17th, typographical errors occurred by which a large daily production during October was presented to be 10,133 barrels, when it should have read 11,070 barrels. The errors would not detract any one who examined the Report, as we aggregate production for the month was 10,133 barrels, which would allow an average for the thirty-one days of October of 11,070 barrels.

Business Prospects.

Eight years ago, and the clouds of war were gathering on the Southern horizon, the Federal treasury was empty, and we were on the brink of Revolution. Divided at home, and with scarcely a friend among foreign Governments, the prospects of our country were obscure and depressing indeed. For four years, the war of the Rebellion raged, our commerce was driven from the ocean, agriculture languished, our citizens were called from the farm, the workshop, the mine, to engage in a gigantic expenditure of the Nation's wealth. In the fulness of their patriotism, our citizens became not only the Nation's defenders, but its creditors. The war ended in the conquest of the rebellion. But the ideas and principles and prejudices of the war were not exterminated, only temporarily appeased. And since the spring of 1865, the whole country has been in a ferment over the question of taxation, the public debt and reconstruction. How the revenue should be raised, how taxes should be proportioned upon the diverse industries of the people, was a question that came home to every man's business. What rights should be conferred upon freedmen, what disabilities placed upon rebels, was the question that alarmed the South. Party spirit ran as high there, as before the war, and pride of race, and sectional jealousy assumed their most intolerant and malignant forms. The first four years of Peace, succeeding the first four years of War, have not therefore been favorable to whether public improvements or private enterprise either North or South. The South has been the great sufferer, because the reign of terror and the social proscription which have prevailed there have repelled emigration, labor and the flow of capital from the North. The great capitalists, too, of our great Northern cities, and the men of wealth scattered all over the country, have been intimidated by the condition of our National affairs from embarking in new enterprises. The uncertainty which hung over the financial policy of the Government, the bold and wide-spread attempt to limit the desire and purpose of Repudiation among the people, and the threats that were freely indulged of another civil war, which the Ku Klux outrages at the South seemed to bring within the range of probability—these things have weighed like a nightmare upon the business interests of the country, chilling and paralyzing the movements, and checking and retarding the expansion of capital, and the application of labor and skill to every form of enterprise. The election of Gen. Grant will disperse these clouds of doubt and anger. We know now that the President and Congress will be of one mind. We know what the National policy will be. We know that order will be restored and maintained at the South. We know that faith will be kept with the Nation's creditors, and that taxation will have respect to the interests of labor and to social conditions. A conviction of stability, of security, of public confidence, is eminently favorable to business, and is the more grateful, after the clash of arms and the strife of tongues which have agitated and confused the country since 1860. There are good times coming, times of plenty, prosperity and progress, such as the world has never before seen.

WATSON'S PHILADELPHIA BUSINESS DIRECTORY FOR 1869.—We call the attention of our Merchants to this new and valuable little work of reference to the Trade of Philadelphia, and commend its utility to every merchant buying goods, or doing business with Philadelphia to the extent of a thousand dollars a year. It will contain a classified list of all the Merchants, Manufacturers and Professional men of Philadelphia, arranged in systematic alphabetical order, a well executed Lithographic Map of the City, and views of the Public Buildings, with other objects of interest in and around the Quaker City. In ordering goods, directing correspondence, or ascertaining where to obtain any article of trade, or manufacture, it will be indispensable to our Merchants. Such a work is much needed, and its popularity, and the standing of the publishers, is vouched for by the Daily Inquirer, Telegraph, and the leading Daily and Weekly Press of Philadelphia. Messrs. Watson & Co., 219 Dock Street, Philadelphia, are the publishers, and will send the work as soon as issued, by mail, postage prepaid, upon the receipt of one dollar. Send your subscriptions in immediately.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—An important decision has just been rendered by the New York Court of Appeals in a case between the American Mutual Life Insurance Company and the widow of an insured party. The payment of the insurance was denied on the ground that her husband had invalidated his policy by committing suicide. This company also attempted to prove that the insured man was an atheist or infidel, and that the death was intentional, the deceased not having the fear of God before him; but the Court ruled out this as irrelevant, and held that in an action to recover for an insurance upon the life of a deceased, it is incompetent to inquire into his religious faith with a view of impeaching the question whether, in such case, death was occasioned by an intent of self destruction or by accident. The Court of Appeals therefore affirmed the judgment of the lower court by giving judgment for the respondent, thus virtually establishing the principle that a life insurance policy is not of necessity invalidated by the suicide of the insured person.

THE FAMILY NEWSPEAPER.—Dr. Franklin remarked that a man often gets two dollars for the one he spends in informing his mind, as he does for a dollar he pays out in any other way. A man eats a pound of sugar and it is gone, and the pleasure he has enjoyed is ended; but the information he gets from a newspaper is treasured up to be enjoyed anew, and to be used when occasion or inclination calls for it. A newspaper is not the wisdom of one man or two men, it is the wisdom of the age, and of past ages too. A family without a newspaper is always a year behind the times in general information; besides they never think much nor had much to talk about. And then there are little ones growing up without a taste for reading, who, when they would be without a newspaper, and who would read one regularly without paying for it?

The business of the Allegheny Valley Railroad for the month of October was the largest in the history of the road. The amount of oil shipped south from Venango City reached the enormous figure of 80,000 barrels. While 16,000 barrels were shipped from Foster Farm, Scrubgrass and Parkers. The passenger travel continues good and has a very materially increased since the company have commenced running their elegant and comfortable conveyances from the depot in Venango city to the depot in Oil City. This conveyance is free of charge and adds much to the comfort of the traveling public.

THE DAVENPORT BROS. gave one of their marvellous exhibitions last evening to a large audience at Corinthian Hall. Their feats are of the highest order in that line of performances, and produce unbounded bewilderment on the minds of those who endeavor to see how they are done. They give another entertainment tonight. See advertisement.

The Wall Street Panic.
Wall Street was the scene of great excitement last week. Many who had been gambling in stocks during the fall, and made large gains, found these accumulations suddenly swept away. If none but these gamblers suffered in the "corner" and "panic" they create, there would be little comparative harm done; but often the disturbance created in money matters seriously disturbs the business of the country. The New York Sun says: "At one time Wall Street was in such a furious panic that strong men's nerves were weak, and weak men believed in all the fabulous reports that the whirlwind had come which was to sweep Wall Street, and, like the basest fabric of a vision, leave not a wreck behind."

Yesterday, Monday, the market was firmer, seven per cent. being paid for call loans, with 3 per cent. commissions. Towards the close of the day money was more abundant and equal to the demand. Exchange brought 107 1/2, and gold which opened at 134 1/2, closed at 135. The clearing House transactions reached the sum of $140,000,000. Government bonds were higher. The stock list tumbled through the day, but closed firm and at an advance.

There has been a perfect mania to sell Railroad stocks for several months, operators forgetting that a collapse must follow. In 1863 and in 1864 the rage was for petroleum stocks. Every body dealt in them, in and out of Wall Street, suddenly oil stocks went down, tens of thousands lost money—some their all, and the game was over—the bubble burst. Last year operators began to turn their attention especially to railroad securities, and stock gamblers have continued to operate in them extensively this year—running up some descriptions to a high figure. When the fall came, it was very great. St. Paul shares, for instance, have fallen fifty per cent. from what they were a few weeks since.

The panic was the greatest on Thursday and Friday. Money was obtained with more ease on Saturday, and there was a decided advance in stocks from prices current the day previous—Government bonds advanced from 1/4 to 1/2; border State bonds from four to six per cent.; New York Central, 3 1/2, and some securities advanced eight per cent.

The New York Economy of Saturday says: "The money market is in an still unsettled condition, and loans are effected with great difficulty; the pressure, however, is less extreme than yesterday, and rates are a shade lower. We have heard that 1/4 of one per cent. per day, in addition to the seven per cent. in currency, has been paid, but the larger amount of loans have been made under this rate. Despatches from Washington states that the Secretary of the Treasury has decided that he has authority to release legal tender notes which have been redeemed but not cancelled. By the debt statement, published to day, it appears that the legal-tenders in circulation amount to $336,000,000, which is $44,000,000 less than the amount authorized by law. From a letter from the Assistant Secretary to the Assistant Treasury at this port, we understand that the referred to advances are substantially confirmed, but that the Secretary does not contemplate making that authority except in the event of a severe pressure on the resources of the Department, and then only to a moderate extent, and that such release will be but temporary. Assurance are also given that there will be no farther sales of gold or bonds for the account of the government. Commercial paper is extremely dull and unchanged since our last quotations.

Bonding in government. Bonds continue large and excited, with some of the market fearful. The partial relaxation in the loan market has induced heavy purchases both to cover previous speculative sales and for an advance. Prices have accordingly risen, and, as compared with yesterday morning, show an improvement of 1/4 to 1 1/2 per cent. on the entire list.

W. W. Russ, 25 Diamond street, opposite the Herald office, has just received a splendid assortment of Chamber clocks, which will be sold very low; also a large lot of many other and looking-glasses.

NEW WELL.
A new well was struck on Sunday on the Herbert tract. It is known as Fisher No. 4, and belongs to the Fisher Brothers. Its production is about 70 barrels per day.

REMOVAL OF THE POST OFFICE.
We understand that arrangements have been completed to effect the removal of the Post Office from its present location on Second street to one of the rooms on the ground floor of the Chase House, and the change is to be made to-day. In the same room with the Post Office will be the Western Union Telegraph office, and E. Hayes & Co.'s news depot.

MATTERS PERTAINING TO THE LAW.
Those who have transactions that require assistance from gentlemen of the legal profession, cannot apply to any better qualified than the firm of Spencer, Sherman & Beebe, whose office is in the Chase House. They are gentlemen of thorough legal attainments and will be found strictly honorable in all their dealings. Mr. Beebe's long residence in this vicinity, and extensive personal acquaintance and familiarity with the land ownership of Venango county, will be found of great value to parties buying oil territory or other property in this locality.

CERTIFIED CHECKS.—It has been decided by Judge Clifford, in the United States Circuit Court, in a case that recently came up in Boston, that the practice of making checks "good" was an irregularly not sanctioned by the custom of merchants, and not justified by the National Banking act. It was decided that neither by national banking law nor the by-laws of the State Bank had the cashier of the latter a right to mark the check in contest "good," so as to impose any liability to meet it on the bank. This decision will go to the United States Supreme Court, in banc; if it is sustained, it will break up a practice which, however convenient in some cases, has its disadvantages also, which may, by improper combinations, be very injurious to the community.

MR. TUTTLE has placed two pastel pictures, a portrait and a fancy head, in Messrs. Olmsted & Jewhurst's window. He intends to make pastel portraits somewhat of a specialty, making use of a solar camera in obtaining outlines. Pastel pictures excel in richness and softness of coloring. Mr. Tuttle wishes to call attention to the moderate prices which he intends making them, by price, for life size, and busts, on 20x24 boards mounted, under French glass, ready for framing, being only $25.00, which is remarkably low.

Public Notice.—To all whom it may Concern:—The undersigned hereby give notice to manufacturers and parties making, selling or using Drilling Bits made of wrought iron and steel combined, that by virtue of certain assignments duly recorded at the United States Patent Office, we own the sole and absolute right, title and interest in three patents for Drilling Jars, one awarded to James C. Eastman, in July, 1867, and two to Edward G. Gifford, in May, 1868; said patents covering all jars made of wrought iron and steel combined, and applied substantially in the manner represented in said patents and generally known as steel jars. Any further information desired relating to said patents can be had by application to the undersigned.

All parties who shall hereafter manufacture, sell or use the same without license from the owners of said patents, will be prosecuted for infringement, according to law, and all who have heretofore infringed on said patents, can arrange with the undersigned if they so desire.
